Unseen passage (10)

Q.1.

South Africa attracts many holidaymakers, who come for its beautiful beaches and open areas of countryside, and for the safaris that allow visitors to see African animals in the wild.

With the flat-topped Table Mountain in the background, the city of Cape Town is famous for its harbour.

Australia is famous for its beaches. Many people in Australia enjoy surfing.

Australia also has the Great Barrier Reef, the world's largest coral reef. People come from all over the world to scuba dive or snorkel and to admire the fish.

China is an exciting place to visit. People come for its culture and history as well as its huge, modern cities.

The Great Wall of China is over 2000 years old and stretches over 8850 km (5500 miles). Many visitors come to walk on the wall and admire the views from it.

The United Kingdom is a little country with a lot of history. People visit to see the beautiful scenery in Scotland and Northern Ireland, ancient castles in Wales, and cities and many historical monuments in England.

India is a land of contrasts with plenty to see. In the north are the mountains of the Himalayas and in the south are beautiful beaches. In between, people can visit modern cities and ancient temples, and see farmers farming the land as they have done for centuries.

Q.3.

Inside the Cupboard

'Crunch ... Crackle ... Munch ... Slurp ...' The sounds were coming from a large cupboard in the farthest, darkest corner of the kitchen. Whatever could be inside? 3

George listened at the door and opened it quietly, just enough to peep inside. GULP!

George slammed the door shut. He couldn't quite believe his eyes. 5

'What is it?' asked Lottie.

Trying to look bold, George grasped the handle and this time flung open the door.

There, smiling shyly, its cheeks crammed with food was .... 8

'A dragon!' gasped George.

The little dragon nodded and said, 'I'm very hungry and ... and ... I'm lost.' With that a big tear welled up and began to trickle slowly down the creature's face. 11

'Please don't cry, we'll help you,' said George, while Lottie patted the dragon's paw.

'What happened to you?'

'Everything's mixed up and I've got a bump on my head.' He gave a loud sniff and began to tell his sad tale. 15
